

LIVE WEBCASTING

Connect with Your Customers and Audience Again

RENDERCAST

At Rendercast we've been busy developing creative solutions to help you reconnect with your audience and customers.

With this in mind, our services have now expanded to include the multi purpose benefits of Webcasting. While people are travelling less, crews and events are smaller and it becomes tougher to capture the interest of people in general, it's also an exciting time to create a connection with new and innovative approaches. Remember, webcasting doesn't just mean live, it also means strategic, well produced content that if done right and with the right people, can have benefits on any social platform you use.

Our team will sit down with you to determine how we can differentiate your next live webcast from the many video conferences. This will include creative assets such as images, graphics, and videos, all seamlessly integrated into your show to make it much more engaging and achieving better results.

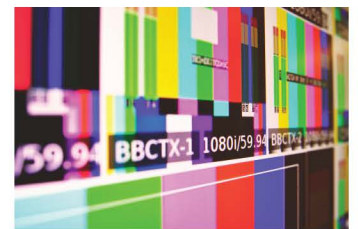

Our team has 3 level of solutions that can help you from product launches to corporate team meetings. It's time to harness the energy of our webcasting tools to stand out in a crowd. Our media professionals are here to help you be the best you.

Recently clients have approached us about work in the banking world for presentations to annual meetings for shareholders to Product launches for brands. We can help you bring the message to life. The best part is, you will get to keep the final product for future use.

Our live webcasting services can be used to virtualize any of the following:

- Large and Small Events
- Annual Meetings
- Concerts
- Conferences
- ...and more
- Company Meetings
- Gatherings
- Training Presentations
- Trade Shows

Virtualize Your Events with Render Media

W: render.media